Tessa Jowell's Winter 2008/9 Parliamentary Report

From Tessa Jowell - your local MP for Dulwich and West Norwood

A message from Tessa Jowell MP

HOUSE OF COMMONS
LONDON SW1A 0AA

Dear Resident,

I hope very much that you will spare a few moments to read my Parliamentary Report which will be delivered to every household in Dulwich and West Norwood by volunteers.

I hope also that you will make contact with me if there are issues that you would like to raise with me or that you would like me to act upon.

Locally my priorities are to see progress in the new community hospital for Dulwich, to see the new Harris Boy's School open on time in East Dulwich, to see the new building for the Evelyn Grace Academy underway, to see a reduction in violent crime and to see improving train services. But I would like to know whether these are also your priorities and, if not, then what is most important to you?

People often ask "what is the point of government?"

Well, the action taken to stabilise the markets by capitalising the banks, increasing liquidity and taking part ownership is a compelling example of how the government has acted in your interests at this unprecedented time.

The downturn in the London economy sparked by the world credit crisis is taking its toll locally. My surgeries and our local advice services are providing support and advocacy. If you are facing difficulty in keeping up with your mortgage or other payments then do please seek help earlier rather than later.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Tessa Jowell
